Junior Prom Friday and Saturday; Les Brown, Gossamere Setting Scheduled for Smith Fieldhouse

by Marlene Taylor — Universe Staff Writer

Friday and Saturday, April 8 and 9, will be the grand climax of months of planning and hours of work when the Junior Prom becomes a reality instead of a dream in a land of fantasy, at the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse.

Muscle will be by Les Brown and his band of renown, the top dance band in the land. Featured with the band will be Jane Greer, vocalist, Butch Stone, vocalist, and Stumpy Brown, Les' younger brother.

Gossamere, the well between reason and disbelief, will be the theme and will feature huge, fantastic decorations which will dwarf the crowd.

Dress will be modest formal, in keeping with school standards, for the girls and fellows will have a choice of a tuxedo, white dinner jacket, ROTC dress uniform or dark blue suit.

Traffic Directions

Parking will be handled by the Intercollegiate Knights and Val Hyvics. All traffic is to enter the parking lot by way of 2nd East.

2nd North entrance will be closed. Drivers are to leave their keys in the car when they get to the parking stalls so the parkers will be able to park the cars, according to Carl Johansen, traffic chairman. After the prom ticket numbers will be called out over a loud speaking system. Carl gives students to get out and listen for their ticket number and then move to the stalls as soon as it is called out in order for the committee to have all the cars out as quickly as possible.

U of U Quartet

Intermission entertainment will be furnished by the winning University of Utah quartet who represent Pi Kappa Alpha, national fraternity. Consisting of Terry Thompson, Eddie Peterson, Bill McConohay and George Pingree, the quartet specializes in modern songs as well as barbershop melodies.

Tickets are on sale for $3.75 at the Eyring Science Center and the lobby of the Joseph Smith Building.

Committee Named

Chairman for the prom is Frank Johannsen, Leithridge, Alta., Canada. Other committee members are: Chair Les, Beaver, business manager; Dick Bell, Lake City, and Vicki Larson, Phoenix, Ariz., decorations; Bill Jackson, San Leandro, Calif., publicity; Allen Keeler, Provo, as prettiest flowers with the biggest bouquets and even over the tallest trees. They also indulge in masonry and carpentry. Many time the boys get together on a project and combine efforts to paint one of their homes or add extra rooms for the growing families.

Orchestra, Choir To Give Concerts Sunday, Monday

Brigham Young Symphony Orchestra and the Tabernacle Choir will present "The Requiem" by Brahms in two concerts this Easter weekend.

Easter Sunday, April 10, a concert will be presented in the Salt Lake Tabernacle at 2 p.m. and Monday, April 11, another presentation will be heard in the Smith Fieldhouse at 8:15 p.m.

J. Spencer Cornwall, choir conductor, and Lawrence Sarsdell, orchestra leader, will conduct the performances. Organists will be Frank W. Asper and Alexander Schreiner.

Elections Committee Asks Bids For ASBYU Business Manager

Two applicants for business manager, Associated Students, Brigham Young University will be chosen Tuesday by a selection committee for candidacy in the studentbody final elections, April 21 and 22, according to Dee Jacobs, elections committee chairman.

Applications Due

Applications should be submitted to the student coordinator's office before 4:30 p.m. Monday. These applications should mention training and leadership qualifications.

Interviews of all applicants by the selection committee will be held after 3:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Executive Council room in the Clark Service Center.

All other candidates for studentbody offices must be represented at the nominating meeting, which is to be held this evening at 5:30. Attendance is mandatory. A list of names is obtained from the Elections Committee before the meeting, Jacobs stressed.

Final Day

Today is the final day for submitting candidacies and petitions for nomination. These petitions should be submitted to the ASBYU elections committee.

Several campaigning limitations have been imposed by the Elections Committee in accordance with the Constitution. These limits apply to campaign expenditures, number of pictures and methods of mounting posters. Candidates must furnish a poster containing a picture of the candidate and a list of campaign promises to be done on campus.

Candidates must have a 1.5 cumulative grade point average and no more than five hours of "D" grade during the last quarter.

Orchestr Unit To Spotlight Mambo-Bach

Tonight and tomorrow night marks the annual presentation of the Brigham Young University Orchestra dance program.

Starting at 8:15 in the Joseph Smith auditorium, the program features "everything from the mambo to Johann Sebastian Bach," according to Miss Gerrie Mullins, director.

Orchestra, an honorary modern dance group, includes 35 dancers, Miss Shilling said. They have chosen a variety of original dances for the performance. Outstanding ones then will be "Lord George Hell," she said, an abstraction from literature into the dance medium.

"This dance illustrates the conflicts of the Georgian and Victorian eras 'the lavish way of life' and in the 'strict moral code' which followed.

In telling of preparations made by the dancers for the program, Miss Shilling said they made their own costumes and props. Some of the dancers have been working for two or more hours a week during the past two quarters in making ready for tonight's opening, she added.

Students will be admitted with their activity cards, admission to others will be $1.00.

Budding Socialites Must Sign Today For Joining Units

Students who wish to rush social units this quarter must register by 5 p.m. today in the student coordinator's office, Clark Service Center basement. It was announced by Eleanor Bergstedt, rush chairman.

Rushing this quarter will be conducted according to the pre-rush rules. A revised program instituting limitation and selection of membership has not yet been approved by Brigham Young University administration. Under the present system no unit may refuse to accept a member who abides by rushing rules.

Units planning to rush have scheduled openhouses for Thursday evening. Students who can not attend openhouse or any rush party of the unit they wish to join must turn in an excuse by noon preceding the event, according to Miss Bergstedt.

Scheduled women's openhouses include Pi Veta, Bowen Hall (Building 1); Fideles, Broadbent Hall (Building 2); Costa Tite, Felt Hall (Building 3); Kappa Delta, Fox Hall (Building 4); and Thalia, Harris Hall (Building 6).

LES BROWN

'Band of Renown' Lives Homey Life In Sunshine State

by Marlene Taylor
Universe Staff Writer

The question most asked about musicians is nearly always the same—what kind of home life do they have? The Les Brown band has the right idea when it comes to home living and most of them live in the same type of home as the average California citizen.

Talk around the band sounds more like a meeting of the local garden club than the number one dance band in the country for it is usually about the yards around the homes of the members.

Competition Keen

Competition is keen over the greenest and most lush lawns, the prettiest flowers with the biggest bouquets and even over the tallest trees. They also indulge in masonry and carpentry. Many time the boys get together on a project and combine efforts to paint one of their homes or add extra rooms for the growing families.

Home Owners

Les lives in the beautiful Pacific Palisades near the ocean while the rest of the band live in the San Fernando Valley. All but three own their own homes.

There is a cordial feeling among the boys and their wives. Les and Claire Brown have an annual party around the pool which is a gay occasion with band members and alumni attending. In keeping everything within the "Band of Renown Family" all publicity, record promotion, photography and every other phase of the business is handled by the band members.

STAFF MEETING

A meeting for all staff members of the Brigham Young University will be held at 4:30 p.m., according to Steve Hale, Universe editor.

Discussion will be held concerning new deadlines, making, new style, communication and policy. Picture scheduling and beat assignments will also be discussed. Unexcused absence from this meeting will be grounds for dismissal from the Universe staff, according to Hale.

Extension Division Scheduled to Give Genealogy Course

"The Fascinating Search—Genealogy," a class offered by the Brigham Young University Extension Division, is scheduled to begin tonight. Registration will be held at the first and second class periods in room 346 Mc Kay Building at 7 p.m., according to Richard Palmer, extension division.

A fundamental course for beginners in the art of research and methods of genealogy accumulation.

The class, a fundamental course for beginners in the art of research and methods of genealogy accumulation, will be taught by Joseph Grant Stevenson, past chairman of the Genealogical Committee of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, taught by Joseph Grant Stevenson, past chairman of the Genealogical Committee of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Provo citizens will be invited to an open forum town meeting. A panel with representatives from the four classes, student-body officers, the faculty, and the administration will discuss honor problems and procedures. Warden said.

Sempre Honores, fresh honor booster club, will conduct a speech contest open to all BYU students. Five-minute talks can be given on any subject carrying out the week's theme of strengths of the honor code and its value in BYU life. Cash prizes are planned.

Predictor Compiles His List Of Tomorrow's Top Tunes

Spring quarter is now well on its way even if Spring isn't, and so are a number of new records. So many top recordings have been released in the last few weeks, that instead of picking a Record of the Week, this week, I'll just give you a rundown of what I pick as tomorrow's top tunes.

First off is the new song Dreamboat as sung by the five De Marco Sisters. This rhythmic little number carries a clever set of lyrics and is fairly reminiscent of the very successful Mr. Sandman. Other top versions are done by a new male group called The Mascots, by Lou Monte, and by the Pauletto Sisters.

A rocking R & B number called Two Hearts has a good chance of becoming a hit with such singers as Doris Day, Frank Sinatra, and The Charms behind it. A new corner bubbling over with rhythm named Pat Boone does a good job on this one and the DeMarco Sisters give forth with a snappy arrangement on the flip side of Dreamboat.

The old western number Cool Water has been revived by Frankie Laine and I think I'm safe in saying that Frankie really puts this one over—but big. It is hardly the type of tune you can imagine hearing on the Hit Parade but just listen. I think you're going to hear it.

Kay Starr hasn't had a hit for quite a while and, for that matter, neither have the Four a song called Frodooby Yours—and its a good one—I think they've got an equal chance of getting back on the popularity list. Doris Day will be in there fighting with her version of this one too.

And I think you can look for big things coming from the Ames Brothers—namely a little number with a steady beat called Sweet Brown-Eyed Baby. It's one of their best.

And last, a new melody that can't be forgotten. It's from the new picture "Rehearsal" and is called simply The Unchained Melody. Liberace and Les Baxter were the first two artists to come up with this song but lately everyone seems to be doing it. I'll put my money on Roy Hamilton. How about you?

Well, there they are—my nominations for tomorrow's hits. The rest is up to you.

Shun Automobiles To Escape Injury In Active Sports

Athletes would break fewer bones if they walked rather than rode to practices, they were told this week by Dr. Ariel L. Williams, Brigham Young University physician. Dr. Williams and Dr. Jesse J. Wright, evening BYU physician, brought this information back from a national convention of the American Academy of General Practitioners in Los Angeles.

They have arranged meetings with all BYU physical education instructors and coaches to report their findings. Main topic of the convention was the possible reduction of athletic injuries through more extensive exercises.

Leg injuries, especially, could be greatly reduced if athletes walked or exercised enough to strengthen the muscles, joints, and tendons before participating in active sports, Dr. Williams reported.

New concepts in treatment of diabetes and other glandular diseases, many of them serious in this area, were also stressed during the convention, according to Dr. Williams.

Organizations to Compete for Trophy In Campus Book Collection Contest

Brigham Young University has set its own letter day to compete with V-day and D-day. It is B-day. B-day, April 16, is book-day, the beginning of the "Books for Democracy" drive.

Organizations competing in the drive must register in the coordinator's office before April 16, according to Ken Young, chairman. Groups desiring to compete may contact Bruce Weidner and Willa Bryant, committee members. Weidner may be reached at 459-NM and Miss Bryant at 1267-M.

A representative will be selected in each housing unit to assist in the collection of books, according to Young. Additional collection points will be designated on campus.

BYU's goal of three books per student includes all used or un-used textbooks for high school and college students. The organization contributing the greatest number of books to be used by students in nations currently receiving Communist literature will be awarded a winner's trophy, Young said.

Placement Bureau Schedules Visit Of School Official

Superintendent Max G. Abbott from the Utah School District Vernal, Utah, will interview candidates for teaching positions tomorrow at the placement bureau, according to R. Keith Dutton, director of placement.

Abbott is interested in interviewing candidates in elementary and secondary education. There are also openings for two elementary principals.

Interviews should be scheduled at the placement office today.

Scribe Pays Tribute To Y Baseball Coach

by Stan Howard

Ever since his earliest recollection, the prime vocational interest of the life of Coach David M. Crowton has been to be active in the field of sports. At present, Crowton is busy on the baseball diamond as head coach of the Brigham Young University varsity squad, and in the fall assists in tutoring the varsity football team.

Crowton started his career in the field of athletics while attending Granite high school in Salt Lake City. During his high school days, Dave was a standout on the football field, basketball court and the diamond. In 1929 and 1930, his junior and senior years, he was an all-state guard choice in the hoop sport, and in 1930 was an all-state end on the football squad. That year he also captained the Granite gridiron team to the Utah title.

In 1929, the Granite High basketball team won the state title and represented the state of Utah in the United States high school tournament at Chicago. However, misfortune, in the form of a broken arm, struck Dave just previous to this journey the team made, and he was left behind.

GRIZZLY SHORTSTOP

Brigham Baseballers Face Montana Opener

by Ken Clayton
University Sports Editor

Up goes the curtain on the 1955 local baseball scene tomorrow when Coach Dave Crowton's Cats face defending champion Montana in a double-header at Timp Park. Game time is 1 p.m.

Brigham Young is fresh from three successive defeats absorbed on their recent southern tour, losing to Terminal Island N.S. 9-5, dropping a 2-0 tussle to Southern California, and being dumped by Pepperdine 11-30.

Montana, winner of last year's Western Division crown, was scheduled to play Utah State in a pair at Logan, but no results have been announced.

Pitching Question

Pitching looms as a vital question made to the Cougars, as ace right hander Lynn Jones has been troubled with a sore back and may not see action against the Grizzlies. The BYU chucksers had a tough time getting the ball over the plate in the Southland, which fault may plague the Cats in future games.

If Jones is unable to start, the pitching choice will rest on either Neil Stevens or Ben Madison southpaw LaMar Williams will get the call in the other fray.

Crowton mentioned that Ralph

Morgan and Phil Oylor paced the Brigham hitting attack while on tour, and both boys are expected to see plenty of action tomorrow.

Montana Loaded

Coach R. L. (Lefty) Byrne has ten returnees from last year's Grizzly club, including Clint Humble, all-conference center fielder and team captain.

Three junior chucksers bolster Byrne's mound corps and will see action against the Cougars. They are Glenn Biehl, Paul Caine and Hon Pomroy.

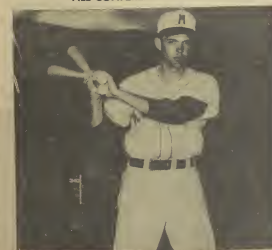

Other bright spots in the Montana picture are hard hitting outfielder Sam Pottenger, and infielders Tom and Murdo Campbell, along with Tom Muri, flashy second baseman.

Biggest loss for the Missoulians was all-American catcher Eddie Anderson and ace pitcher Lefty Marshall.

Starting Lineup

ALL-CONFERENCE SLUGGER

CLINT HUMBLE—Montana's All-Conference centerfielder and captain, should be one of the Grizzly mainstays in defense of their Western Division title. Humble is a hardnosed with the bat and bears considerable watching by Cougar pitchers.

CLAYTON'S CORNER

by Ken Clayton

It's here! Yes, the 1955 edition of Brigham Young's baseball team will lift the curtain on Western Division play against Montana tomorrow at Timp Park.

For the benefit of those who are new at Cougarville, the ball park is situated at 5th North and 3rd West.

According to reports, attendance has been extremely meagre at past ball games. Whether lack of interest or the fact that the field was located downtown was the cause of the indifference is of small consequence. The fact that is of prime concern now is that we, as a studentbody make a concerted effort to actively support Coach Dave Crowton's baseballers.

After speaking to several of the players last week, it was mutually agreed upon that the Cougar athletes would play 50 per cent better ball if they had a good cheering section at the games lending vocal support. This does not mean for baseball, but for the other spring sports as well.

Before we begin criticizing the spring sports at BYU, let's do our part by giving the fellows the lift that may provide the difference between victory and defeat.

It's up to you, students!

Power of Positive Thinking

It appears that concentrated and rapid positive action must be taken with regard to the general outlook on athletics in general here at the Y. The school is extremely fortunate in possessing an athletic staff that takes such a keen interest in the welfare of its participants.

Unfortunately, it seems as though all sports with the exception of basketball are merely tolerated, and that's about all. Even the fellows who take part in these activities are, in some cases, treated as entities apart from the studentbody.

Why?

The only way in which any situation may be corrected is by a definite positive outlook on the part of those supporting the activity. That outlook is needed here.

Why not look upon athletics as an integral segment of the wellrounded institution? Why not observe and appreciate these sports for the good that is derived from participation and observation of same? Why not, instead of driving to the canyon or spending the afternoon in bed, coming out and supporting these sports?

It's a big job but it can be done with the help of everyone concerned at the Y, student and faculty alike.

Incidentally, tomorrow's double-header at Timp Park will match the Cougars against 1954 champion Montana, which should provide two fine games. See you there.

Crowton Tribute—

Incidentally, that was the final year the national high school tourney was held.

Crowton was also a baseball pitcher in high school, but it was in the summer of 1928 when he was flinging with an American Legion team in Salt Lake City, that he had his most success at the diamond game. That summer, Crowton's post won the Rocky Mountain title, went on to capture the championship for the eight Western States, and narrowly missed the "West of the Mississippi" crown. In the final game with St. Paul, played at Denver, the Salt Lake post lost out by a 3-2 margin.

While still attending BYU, Crowton began coaching at Brigham Young High School in Provo. Upon graduation in 1938, he took over as a fulltime coach at that school. In the years previous to World War II, his six-man football squads played for the state title three times, and tied for the championship one of those.

In 1941 B.Y. High baseball team won the Region 3 title and went on to the state tournament. World War II came along and Dave was called into the service in 1943. He served with the "War Relocation Authority." Afterwards it was back to Brigham Young High School again, where the institution took up eleven-man football and placed Dave as head coach. He also was head basketball coach, and in 1948 took his team to the class B state championship. This squad was a sentimental favorite to Dave. The same boys, under the persuasion of Crowton, had been playing together since the eighth grade.

The following year, 1949, the whole crew was back for their first year in high school, and once again they swept to the class B top spot. Crowton, however, did not finish the season with his prize trophies, but took his first job at Brigham Young University as public relations in the athletic department.

He became head football coach at BYU in 1951, and has assisted on the varsity grid aggregation ever since. He became varsity baseball mentor the following year and has held the same position to this date. Dave's first year at the helm of BYU horseball fortunes, the Cougars took the Skyline Conference crown. They went on to a District 7 title match with Colorado College, but lost out in that game.

Crowton Crowton is married and the father of three children. The oldest, David Jr., was an All-State basketball choice at Y. High in 1951.

Among his hobbies, Dave is a lover of golf, fishing and likes to work in his garden. A secret desire which was never fulfilled, was to join the professional golf circuit for at least one year.

Kansas Professor Shows Movies To Biology Pupils

Zoology and biology students and professors received a visit from a distinguished visitor Monday, when Professor E. Raymond Hall of the University of Kansas spoke and showed movies on a trip he made to the Northern reaches of Alaska. The movie was shown in room 350, Brimhall Building.

The excellent film on the Alaskan landscape showed views of the many types of animal species in the Arctic. Views of the seacoast and inland areas such as the little known Brooks Range were also featured.

Prof. Hall, who is head of the Department of Zoology at the Lawrence, Kan. school, showed technicolor films of wild life and the scenic beauties of that land. The expedition, which was sponsored by the University of Kansas with the cooperation of the United States Navy, was for the primary purpose of doing research work in the sciences of biology and zoology.

Headquarters were set up at Point Barrow, northernmost point in the territory, from which excursions were made into the interior and along the seacoast during the summer of 1953.

Prof. Hall is in Utah to attend the Army Biological Problems tests which are being held at Dugway Proving Grounds. Professor Vasco M. Tanner, chairman of the zoology and entomology departments at BYU, is also attending the tests.

Prospective members will be guests of Horace Sorenson, Salt Lake City, national chapter president, at a 7 p.m. banquet-meeting April 14, in the Joseph Smith Banquet Hall, according to Dr. Jay B. Hunt, of the organization committee.

Pres. Sorenson will explain the functions and purposes of the new chapter, Dr. Hunt said. Interested eligible men may bring their wives to the banquet. Dr. Hunt pointed out, as he said reservations must be made some time today.

Reservations may be made by contacting Dr. Hunt in room 346 McKay or calling extension 588.

Other committee members who may be contacted for reservations are Prof. Karl Young, 241 McKay, or ext. 430; or Prof. Gustave Larson, 112 McKay, or ext. 461.

Dr. Hunt estimated 100 members of BYU staff and faculty would be eligible to join the chapter. He said the University of Utah had 87 charter members in a similar chapter organized in Salt Lake City.

To be eligible to join SUP, Dr. Hunt said, a man must have at least one ancestor who arrived in Utah before 1869, which was the date of completion of the trans-continental railway.

'Business as Usual' For Student Programmers As Most Students Prepare for Junior Prom

'Lost and Found' Asks for Losers Or Bigger Office

Capt. L. E. Christensen, security officer, and in charge of the lost and found department of the security office, issued a plea this week for all persons who are missing a wallet, coat, book or other article, to check with his office. The small office is packed with articles found on the campus and just waiting for owners to claim them, he said.

Each day large numbers of articles are turned into the office. The majority of this material is soon claimed, but a considerable amount is added to the store of the unclaimed. After the articles are kept in the security office for six months and still not claimed, they are given to charitable organizations. The next such donation will take place in June, Capt. Christensen warned.

During the school year 1953-54 approximately 6,000 articles were turned into the office. Of this number, 4,691 were returned to the owner. These were valued at $30,730. The remainder were released to school and charitable organizations because they were never claimed. They were valued at $700.00.

Many students, after losing one of their possessions, call at the lost and found office and, when informed that it has not been turned in, leave discouraged. Sometimes they never return. For this reason, many objects which are eventually turned in are unclaimed.

It may be the junior prom weekend for most students, but for the student program bureau it is like any other weekend.

Howard Ellison will direct and "emcee" a variety show tonight at Lindon. Purpose of the show is to raise money for new song books.

Newcomers Appear

Two newcomers, as far as number of bureau shows are concerned, are John Marlow, vocalist, and Ted Bell, comedian, both of whom will appear tonight.

Others in the cast are: accordionist Cliff Birrell; western singer Glen Sherwood; the Mello-Tones trio formerly the Engemanns; Pat Ingram and Sandra West, Charleston dancers; and Don DeGrade, saxophone player.

While students are making last minute adjustments in their formal attire and their pocketbooks Friday, bureau members will be in Salt Lake City performing its minstrel show before the studentbodies of Jordan and Olympus high schools.

Top SPS Talent

Backed by a 25-voice chorus, the show will include many of the featured performers of the bureau, with bureau director Janel Thompson directing the show. Ellison is assistant director.

In the cast are: Bones, Tambo, Rastus, and Sambo played by Bryan Renstrom, Chris Poulas, Bob Jensen, and Dick Jensen, respectively. Herschel (Soup Bones) Pedersen will be an extra end man.

Also in the show will be Rockettes dance group, three Jacks and a Jill, Miss Simpel and his Dixieland Five; Alyric Ray, as interloper; Gaynotes Trio; and Mildred Meyer, soloist.
